

Ballon d'Or 2024 – Regulations

Men's and Women's Ballon d'Or

Article 1. The Ballon d'Or trophy and the voting process are organized annually by the monthly magazine France Football. The ceremony is co-organized with UEFA.

Article 2. The Ballon d'Or rewards the best male and female players in the world, without distinction of Championship or nationality.

Article 3. The reference period covers the entire season, from August to the following August, including international competitions (Euro, AFCON, Copa America, and the Olympics for 2023-2024).

Article 4. The Ballon d'Or is awarded based on three main criteria: 1. Individual performances, decisive and impressive character. 2. Team performances and achievements. 3. Class and fair play.

Article 5. The Ballon d'Or is awarded by an international jury of specialized journalists, with one representative per country, from the top 100 in the latest FIFA rankings (before the lists are published) for men and the top 50 for women.

Article 6. Each juror selects ten players in descending order of merit from a list of 30 established by the editorial staff of France Football, members of the editorial staff of L'Équipe, the best juror from the previous edition – Costa Rica for the men's Ballon d'Or, South Africa for the women's Ballon d'Or – and UEFA ambassadors, Luis Figo for the men's trophy and Nadine Kessler for the women's trophy.

Article 7. The ten selected players are awarded 15, 12, 10, 8, 7, 5, 4, 3, 2, and 1 point respectively. The Ballon d'Or is awarded to the player with the highest number of points.

Article 8. In case of a tie, the players are separated by the number of first-place votes. If the tie remains, by the number of second-place votes, then by the number of third-place votes, and so on.

Article 9. Any dispute arising from the voting is decided by the editor-in-chief of France Football as the organizer.
